

PROFILE

Prof. Claire Lewis, PhD,
Head,
Professor of Molecular & Cellular Pathology,
University of Sheffield Medical School,
UK.

After completing my DPhil (PhD) in the Department of Physiology, Anatomy and Genetics in Oxford in 1986, I held two postdoctoral positions and a Lectureship in the Medical School there before moving to join the Medical School in Sheffield in 1996. I currently hold a Personal Chair in Molecular & Cellular Pathology and head a team of pre and postdoctoral scientists in the Academic Unit of Inflammation and Tumour Targeting. I was awarded a DSc by Oxford University in 2006 for my contribution to the field of tumour inflammation research.
